Client Case Study & Success Story

Scalable Dev Team Support for GoNative LLC

Client Intro

GoNative LLC is a well-established technology company specializing in native web & mobile app development environments for developers with minimal to no coding expertise. With a strong global presence, they provide an end-to-end solution that enables businesses to efficiently convert existing website content of any CMS into a fully coded website. Their platform has powered thousands of apps, reaching millions of users worldwide.

Client Challenges

GoNative approached DigiReps with a need to quickly and effectively expand their development capacity:

- Stretched In-House Team: Their internal developers were overloaded with multiple high-stakes projects, leading to potential delivery risks.
- Urgent Need for Skilled Talent: They required experienced developers who could hit the ground running and integrate seamlessly into their workflow.
- Scalability Concerns: GoNative wanted the flexibility to scale their team based on changing project demands, without going through lengthy hiring cycles.

DigiReps Solutions

DigiReps partnered with GoNative to deliver agile, reliable, and scalable development support by:

- Sourcing Top-Tier Developers Talent: We identified and vetted developers with the technical and collaborative skills needed to thrive in GoNative's fast-paced environment.
- Smooth Onboarding Process: We ensured seamless integration with GoNative's systems, tools, and practices, minimizing disruption and ramp-up time.
- Ongoing Performance & Integration Support: We maintained regular check-ins to optimize productivity, communication, and alignment.
- Scalable Hiring Model: We offered flexible and rapid scaling of developer support—adding junior or senior developers to the team as project needs evolved, ensuring the right talent was always available at the right time.
